Flying high is the new flying ballet company, HI-FLI, based at THE GRAND, Wolverhampton, which flew PETER PAN at the LONDON COLISEUM at Christmas, and is also flying the provincial tour.

Three men with an interest in flying started the company 12 months ago, and would like to see stage and auditorium flying restored to its former popularity.

The potential is huge, they say, and there are few things more dramatic in pantomime than to see a girl flying from the stage, over the heads of the people in the stalls, and up to the dress circle and back.

The feature of limbo dancing under knives creates excitement, which is contrasted by the humour of the audience participation, and then limbo under fire, for a spectacular finish.
